Foreword

Ten years of service is the record of Roslindale High School, which was established in 1936 to meet the needs of the only growing section of Boston. Through its five courses it has prepared ten classes of girls and boys to take part in the life of the community during the most critical years of our country's existence—years that have brought us depression, war, and, in our time, peace. Our school has done its task well. We, the Class of 1946, have enjoyed its benefits, have shared in the crystallization of some of its traditions, and have founded still others. In our school's decennial year we offer our Yearbook as the record of the achievements of Roslindale High School and of our own small contribution to them, as proof of the school's service to Roslindale and to West Roxbury.

Head Master

Head Master's Message

In extending my congratulations to you, the class of nineteen forty-six, I wish to compliment you on the timely theme which you have chosen for your Year-book, and on the excellent way in which you have developed it.

Your high school days have been spent in a period which will never be omitted from the history books which future generations will study. Its importance and significance are tremendous and beyond our ability to predict, but we cannot but feel that the thousands of boys and girls throughout the land who are assuming the responsibilities of citizenship will apply sober and serious thought to the problems which face them in the administration of civic affairs,—local, state, and national.

This year is your school's decennial, and that means more in your case than you might at first suspect. It means that your school was practically one hundred per cent engaged in the war effort. Every young man graduate was of an age to make him eligible for service in the armed forces; many of the young women graduates were engaged in some kind of service which contributed to the war effort; and those of you who were in school during the war years made your contributions through service in the Junior Red Cross, as helpers in the rationing program, as workers in place of men who had gone to war, and in purchasing stamps and bonds; practically everyone, graduate and student, was doing his part.

So, as you finish your studies in high school, you may justly feel proud that you had a part in the history of Roslindale High School's first ten years, and that your three years, coming at the end of the decade, were characterized by service for your country in its struggle to maintain and preserve Freedom, Liberty, and Justice.

Your Head Master hopes that individually and collectively you will continue to find pleasure and satisfaction in so conducting your activities that you can justly claim that your service has been a worthy contribution to the progress of civilization and to the establishment of peace and good will among all mankind.

The young people of the Class of 1946 are not the only ones who are graduating from Roslindale High School this June. With them there goes a man who has seen much of the world which his young companions enter so eagerly. Yet he belongs among them; if we look at him we can not help but see in his eyes the twinkle that will ever be youthful. After long and faithful service, Mr. Francis J. Conlin is leaving the classrooms which have been such an important and absorbing part of his life.

No matter how large or how numerous its classes may be in the future, our school will seem a little lonely without him who has served it so well. During the years that we have known Mr. Conlin we have become devoted to him with an affection which springs from admiration, respect, and gratitude.

We admire him because he is a gentleman in the purest sense of the word. In this patient and understanding man we have seen a teacher who was doing his utmost to aid us. English is perhaps the most difficult subject in which to interest the average student, but few indeed were the pupils who did not look forward to an English class with Mr. Conlin, whose wit and sagacity made each period too short.

We respect him because he undertook each task with the same energy that was evident in his every action. Almost single-handed he has turned out edition after edition of the Tattler; he can be proud of his work which has always been entirely for our benefit.

We are grateful to him because he has enriched our lives by his very presence. Any of us who have had the privilege of daily association, even for only one year, with this jovial and kindly man could not help but absorb some fraction of the fine qualities which have earned him our undying love.

We shall miss Mr. Conlin. We hope that he will miss us, but, even more than that, we hope that his influence will stay with us to guide us in our association with everyone who, in the future, will cross our paths.

MR. FRANCIS J. CONLIN

CULTY

During the years 1936-1946 we and our predecessors have known that, regardless of the difficulties we were to encounter, we were assured at all times of the firm, guiding hands, and of the friendly, encouraging advice of our Headmaster and of our Faculty. We knew that theirs was an inspiring example for us to emulate, and that the road ahead would be all the clearer and easier because of their tireless efforts in our interest. Most of all, we have felt that our only suitable remuneration to them will be our untiring maintenance of the splendid traditions of the school—traditions for the establishment of which our Head Master and our Faculty have done so much.

We are proud of the service of Roslindale in time of war. At home, each of us tried to do his part, whether he was a teacher or a pupil. As a group the faculty registered 2,591 men for Selective Service; took and gave First Aid and Air Raid Precaution courses, and issued 18,800 ration books. As individuals they served as members of the Aircraft Warning Services; members and chairmen of OPA price panels; victory gardeners; directors of War Loan Drives; organizers of community recreation, USO, and Red Cross units; secretaries and workers in war plants and federal bureaus; members of the Coast Guard (T); and Nurse's Aids, Gray Ladies, and Dietitians in civilian and veterans' hospitals. Many were blood donors.

Girls and boys in the school subscribed $27,693.13 in War Bonds and Stamps, and worked as clerks at the local rationing board. Each war year forty-nine per cent of the pupils worked part-time in offices, factories, and stores. Girls made 12,575 surgical dressings, and a group of second-year girls issued by mail 141,800 copies of War Book III. Many boys and girls did Red Cross work, served at USO canteens, at Air Raid Warning Centers, and at hospitals.

We are proud of all this, but we can find no words to express our admiration and respect for our brothers, our sisters, our cousins, and our friends who, educated as we have been at Roslindale High School, offered their lives in the service of their country.

ACT

ACTIVITIES

We realize that the only way to preserve our democracy is through democratic training. With this in mind, we have organized our extracurricular activities so that every pupil has the opportunity for safe and beneficial expression of his individual ideas and of his special talents. We have emphasized the lasting rather than the temporal gains, and we have conducted the activities maturely and in a spirit of friendly informality. But never have we forgotten our loftier purpose, and in so doing we have many times experienced the unique satisfaction of having completed successfully tasks which we had undertaken of our own free will and in addition to our regular school duties.

SERVICE
Through Activity

Presenting your Tattler Staff! These are the trapajeros and travailleurs who work so hard trying to publish the school magazine on time. Weeks of worry and labor go into each issue of The Tattler. After the ordeal is over, everyone heaves a deep sigh and takes a long deserved rest. Reeducation lasts for only a short time because before long the editors are on the run again. Stories, poems, pictures, plays—they all have to be gathered before publication begins. The one consolation that exists is the fact that after all the hardships are overcome, the different pieces do stick together, and there is the Tattler!

With the loss of such clever seniors as we are, the stock of The Tattler will undoubtedly lose much value. However, with increasing diligence, and with the expert guidance by the faculty advisers, Mr. Conlin, Miss Aznive, and Mr. Landrigan, it is certain the circulation will continue normal.

Tattler Representatives

Much credit should be given to our Tattler representatives, directed by Miss Burke, who have conscientiously and steadfastly given a great deal of their time and energy to the Tattler. Their job consists of getting one hundred per cent subscriptions to the Tattler from the pupils in each home room. This can be done only through the cooperation, which is nearly always easily gained, of all students. If the need does arise, however, for just a little bit of bribing or threatening, it is always done with the best intentions and with good results. Then follows the process of much tearing out of hair, struggling to make the accounts balance, and staying on friendly terms with "robbed" classmates. The Tattler representative, apparently nonchalant, finally reaches the goal of one hundred per cent subscriptions. But that is not all—three times a year the representative distributes to his constituents the finished issue of the Tattler.

Nine seniors, one representing each senior homeroom, were elected in September to serve with our class officers: George Bondreau, president; John O'Connell, vice president; Anne McCarthy, treasurer; and Ruth Johnson, secretary, as a Council to direct the activities of our senior year. With the advice of our sponsors, Miss Gordon and Mr. O'Brien, the group among other duties made the arrangements for the Senior Prom, helped select the Staff of the Yearbook, and planned the Class Day program. Each member of the Council enjoyed his work particularly because of the opportunity it gave him to become better acquainted with more of his classmates and to help promote the successful projects of the Class of 1946.

Junior Red Cross Representatives

The object of the Junior Red Cross is to extend service to the needy. Each representative eagerly contributes his share of work. This year, the cookie jar at the Chelsea Naval Hospital was replenished by the Household Department of the Junior Red Cross, and the holiday meals of the veterans were made more enjoyable by the bright menu cards which the Art Department designed. Our special efforts have been exerted for the men in the service, who have received from us hundreds of books and magazines.

The biggest event of the year, however, was the annual distribution to needy children of more than 250 beautiful dolls, dressed by the girls of the school. Toys and scrap books were also sent to children's institutions and to hospitals during the Christmas holidays.

The activities of 1945-46 have been successful because Miss Stavrinis, the faculty adviser, the representatives, and the student body are willing, industrious workers.

This year the Debating Club has, despite a serious handicap, had a successful and interesting year. As everyone knows the handicap was the matter known as the man shortage. Of course, President Bill McConnell was present, but with his many other interests taking up a great deal of his time, Bill was forced to turn over most of his duties to his assistant, Mr. Landrigan.

There were several forums in the Auditorium on various subjects dealing with current problems. Two debates were held with teams from Girls' High School; another was presented at one of the meetings of the Home and School Association. Added to these were the debates held within the club itself.

Mr. Landrigan deserves sincere thanks for all the assistance he willingly gave to the club and for the time he spent on club activities. (He could have, however, signed the members out of classes instead of using his own after-school time.)

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club, under the direction of Miss Mary Reid, was a new addition to the Roslindale High School roster of clubs this year. Since the deactivation of the Playmakers at the beginning of the war, there had been no dramatic club, until a group of students interested in the stage and the theatre asked to have a club started this year. The activities have been carried on in a spirit of informality and were intended mainly for the benefit of the members themselves. Highlighting the first half of the year was the highly successful Christmas party, which featured an original play by Francis Nee.

Later two one-act plays were cast, one a comedy of high school life and the other the well-known melodrama, The Monkey's Paw. Taking part in the former were Phyllis Bader, Janice Lunney, Dominic Bright, Patricia Wilkey, John Marshall, Lois Jenkins, and Leonard Coppenrath. The members of the cast of The Monkey's Paw were Francis Nee, David Tucker, Dorothy Pugatch, Leo Kharibian, and Kevin Walshe. The club looks forward to a year of greater and more ambitious activity in 1947.

Roslindale High School's Girls' Glee Club, comprised of eager vocalists under the able direction and critical eye of Mr. Famiglietti, has provided an abundance of talent and melodious harmony for many assemblies. Outstanding among Glee Club members was a gifted trio made up of three unusual seniors—Dorothy Piranian, Lois Gustafson, and Marion Maek who were heard on many Friday mornings in school and once on the radio for the "Boston Public School Hour."

At the Christmas Assembly the Glee Club presented three appropriate compositions: "Gesu Bambino," "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," and "Ave Maria." One of the most gifted members, Dorothy Marble, sang Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Despite tedious but profitable hours spent in practicing and memorizing, all the girls have been enthusiastic participants.

Boys' Glee Club

Under the expert leadership of Mr. Michael Famiglietti and with the complete co-operation of Mr. Warren, the Boys' Glee Club graduated from a dream into reality this year.

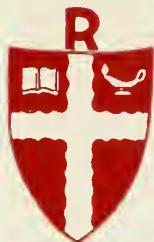

The club meets Friday mornings during the assembly period in the auditorium. Many students in that part of the building have been serenaded by the club during its rehearsals. If an assembly interferes with the club's plans for rehearsal, several of the more husky members of the club move a piano into room 118 where Mr. Murray and Mr. Donadio sometimes sing with the bass section.

At Christmas the club making its debut sang several carols in the halls of the building.

Mr. Famiglietti plans to have the club sing a Harvard Glee Club number at graduation and another with the Girls' Glee Club.

The Boys' Glee Club has built a good foundation upon which to develop musical talent among the boys of Roslindale High School.

The ability of its members, combined with the variety of instruments played, contributes to the popularity of the orchestra.

This year, under the direction of Mr. Trongone assisted by Miss Reid, the orchestra played for the annual district meeting of the Home and School Association. It also performed at school assemblies, including the Columbus Day and Christmas assemblies. Early in the year preparations were started for the orchestra's part in the graduation exercises.

The rehearsals twice a week are continually increasing our ability as well as our repertoire, and enable us to perform at very short notice.

Membership in the orchestra does not consist completely of work. It is a source of relaxation and enjoyment for its music-loving members.

Band

The Roslindale High School Band of 1945-46 is small in number, but has many experienced and talented members. Seniors make up the larger part of the band and therefore hold most of the commissions and ratings. Several boys from the organization displayed their talents by playing Christmas Carols in Roslindale Square. The entire Band had its first chance to show its ability when it was called on to perform before the Home and School Association on the night of January 16, 1946. Mr. Latham, who conducted the band on that night, received many compliments from both parents and teachers. The band has always finished very near the top in the annual Schoolboy Parade and did very well this year under the helpful direction of Mr. Sordillo, Mr. Latham, Mr. Gardner and Mr. Gabele.

The officers were: Captain Henry Kelley, First Lieutenant James Gallo, First Lieutenant John Marshall, Second Lieutenant Paul Parker, Second Lieutenant John Caulfield, Second Lieutenant George Boudreau, Second Lieutenant William Gruseck.

As those unruly yet timid sophomores marched into the school gym in September of 1943, showered by the colorful adverse criticism of Captain Burke and company officers, little did they think that some day they would be horrifying others in the same manner. That is just the case, however, for now that group has become the senior class, many are commissioned officers while others hold high non-commissioned grades.

Pictured below are the commissioned officers of the regiment who have advanced from rank to rank through three years and are now company commanders or subordinates. These officers will drill their respective companies at our prize drill in May, and from these captains will be chosen the colonel, the lieutenant-colonel, and the major of Roslindale High's Cadet Regiment.

Drum and Bugle Corps

This year, again, the Drum and Bugle Corps has flourished under the direction of Mr. H. John Calabro, Drum Corps Supervisor; Mr. Arlie Latham, Bugle Instructor; and Mr. Carl Gabele, Faculty Adviser. It performed with distinction at both the Prize Drill and along the route of the Schoolboy Street Parade. The fact that the Corps this season was composed of veteran performers, twelve buglers and nine drummers, insured its success. Several of them will be members of the school next year, and those of us who are leaving are sure that we are leaving our favorite school organization in capable hands.

This year as in past years the students of Roslindale High School were accosted by the Athletic Association's forceful representatives. With such questions as, "Where is your school spirit?" and exclamations like, "You definitely can spare fifteen cents—now spare it!", how could one keep from buying a maroon and gold pin? As a result of this high pressure salesmanship, the Athletic Association went over the top.

After talking with Mr. Cunningham, a trusted secret agent discovered how this money was used. There are many little known items which must be purchased for all our teams besides the charming uniforms of our modern Herculeses: first-aid kits for the basketball team, knee-pads, and other special equipment for all sport teams. The proceeds also procured the film of the Roslindale-Charlestown football game, which was shown in the hall. Obviously the "A.A." is a worthy organization.

LETICS

By whole-hearted willingness to work for the good of the group we have learned through organized play the inestimable value of a common goal. Constantly keeping in mind the excellent mental and physical training we could derive from participation in athletics, we encouraged every girl and boy to engage in some sport. We set as our objective not merely the creation of championship teams but teams which would bring credit to our school by instilling in each player the qualities of good sportsmanship. These qualities, we are sure, will be of incalculable value not only to the players themselves but to the community which we all hope so much to serve.

SERVICE
Through Play

"The Aches and Pains Club," under the direction of Miss Sullivan and Miss Kelley, the two expert bowlers, has for its aim the building of bigger and better muscles. This aim is achieved during our weekly excursions to the Park Street Bowling Alleys. In order to arrive at this Amazon factory, each member of the club madly dashes out from school and across the square to catch that elusive 2:47 street car. When the girls reach their destination, they immediately quiet down and work out a rotation system in order to give everyone a chance to knock down the stubborn pins.

The sophomores of this club made their debut on January 14, 1946, and the juniors and seniors appeared on January 17. Later these groups were combined, and bowled one afternoon each week. The enthusiasm of everyone steadily increased the membership to about one hundred girls. Teams were formed and a "90 Club" was chartered for those who achieved a score of 90 or more. Fun, no end, was the reward for those who participated in this year's Bowling Club.

Bowling Club

Riding Club

The courageous girls who comprise the Riding Club met weekly during the spring and fall at the Weld Stock Riding Club in West Roxbury. The first week all hopeful beginners learned how to show the horse they were not afraid, a lesson which is by far the hardest. The second week was really confusing because each one had to learn that it is imperative not to mount on the right side of the horse. (And just because the instructor says, "Now get up on the right side, girls," is not an excuse, because one should have known the right side meant the left side!) After this it's every girl for herself—and her horse.

Under the skillful direction of President and instructor, Pat Flynn, it wasn't long before all were getting more than aches and pains for such trouble. It was a thrill to dash under low-hanging branches and around corners. It was easy to imagine one's self a Pony Express Rider, another Famous Heroine, or even the Lone Ranger.

No other club can offer this opportunity!

Members of the club were Patricia Flynn, president; Patricia Holleran, secretary; Carol Havey, Jean Welch, Alice Bowler, Norma Lane, Virginia Niven, Eleanor McClintonck, Anne Kerrigan, Janet Weeber.

In the past year we discovered that golf was not only a favorite of boys, but that girls also enjoyed it, for each Tuesday in the fall and spring the club journeyed to the George Wright Golf Course for a strenuous afternoon of instruction.

Pendulum wrist movement for putting was the first lesson—definitely the hardest. Afterwards the method of chipping, making approach shots, and driving seemed comparably easy—to the members. Perhaps the pro had a more difficult time, for all the girls were beginners. Accordingly the first half hour or so they spent in mastering the fundamental positions and grips. After the weekly routine they stayed until dark to practice the various shots. Such enthusiasts!

Both Juniors and Seniors were active in the club whose members, having maneuvered the hardest part of golfing, hope to continue their progress after leaving Roslindale High.

Members of the club were Patricia Holleran, Eleanor Brooker, Leona Milch, Virginia Niven, Alice Bowler, Norma Lane, Leontine Milano, Mary McDonough.

Girls' Golf

Boys' Golf

This Autumn, golf achieved its place as an intra-mural sport at Roslindale. Mr. O'Brien was the coach, and it is due to his persuasive influence that so many boys became interested in golfing. Two nights a week the boys journeyed to George Wright Municipal Golf Course. One afternoon was devoted to practice under the direction of the club professional. On the other afternoon, the fellows tried to see who could get the lowest score in their eighteen-hole matches.

Members of the golf team are Eugene Catino, Charles Steeger, Harvey Corbo, Robert MacEwen, James Kirkland, Leonard Kane, Leo Kharibian, Horace Daeko, Frank Murphy, J. Kevin Walshe, and Gordon Priece.

Mr. O'Brien points out that golf can be enjoyed from high school days to old age. He earnestly hopes that more boys will come out and make golf a major sport here. A successful season is expected next year.

Tennis under the able direction of Mr. O'Brien made its initial appearance at Roslindale in September, 1945. The climax of the year's schedule was a week-long tournament held at Billings Field in October. Although badly handicapped by lack of manpower, the tournament produced many close, action-packed sets. In the final set for the school championship, John Marshall edged Eugene Catino 6-1, 5-6, 6-4, to emerge the victor.

This year's team consisted of John Marshall, Eugene Catino, J. Kevin Walshe, Frank Murphy, Leonard Kane, Robert Limerick, Leo Kharibian, and Donald Price. With the exception of John Marshall, Eugene Catino, and Leo Kharibian, they will return to school.

Congratulations, team, for the excellent and exciting season which 1946 produced.

Boys' Tennis

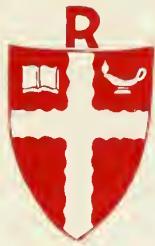

Girls' Tennis

The Tennis Club of Roslindale High opened the season of 1945-46 under an entirely new system. By a method of tournaments each girl played all the other members in the club. There were a great many new members and these girls received special attention from our potential Alice Marbles. All the girls worked diligently to improve their games and on any Tuesday afternoon cries of "Love" and "Deuce" could be heard from the courts at Billings Field. The fact should be appreciated that outdoor activity and participation in all types of games breed good sportsmanship; so if any one has been knocked down in the corridor by a female whirlwind running along with a blithe expression on her face, he can be assured he has been a victim of a member of the Tennis Club.

This commentary will end with three suggestions, which if followed will result in a National Women's Championship: (1) practice; (2) practice; (3) practice.

Members of the club were: Virginia Niven, president; Dorothy Lenihan, secretary; Jean Hayes, Geraldine Casey, Alice Bowler, Patricia Holleran, Eleanor Brooker, Jessie Garland, Phyllis Hersee, Jean McCormack, Mildred O'Leary, Leontine Milano, Florence Murphy, Dorothy Pugatch, Joan Jacobson, Frances Gourley.

The year 1945-46 introduced a new and welcome sport to the girls of Roslindale High, for each Tuesday, under the helpful supervision of Miss Cogan, the Swimming Club met at the Y.M.C.A. pool in Hyde Park for instruction.

The class which included Eleanor Brooker, Marilyn Meyer, Patricia Perry, Shirley Nelson, Donna Chase, Jeanne Krapohl, Florence Murphy, Phyllis Hersee, and Ann Maloney, was taught the rudiments of swimming. In a short time these seniors became proficient in this favorite of sports, and took a test which included swimming from one end of the pool to the other, diving into deep water, and floating. When this test was passed, advanced classes began as the girls struggled with intricate swimming methods and experienced the thrill of a spring board.

Everyone had loads of fun in the best of clubs.

Basketball

This year's basketball squad had a good season, winning eight games and losing seven. The victories were scored over Technical, Jamaica Plain, Charlestown, Brandeis, East Boston, Trade, Dorchester, and Brighton. The team won seven of ten home games, losing two games by five points, and one by eight.

Three members of the senior class participated in basketball this year: Paul Andersen and Fred Wood as forwards, and George Kouri as guard. Paul Andersen was one of the ten leading scorers in the city, and Wood was one of the best defensive forwards.

Arthur Clark, Don West, Robert Lynch, Andrew Mantineo, Edward Crossen, David Sill, Bob Twitchell, and Richard Nilson completed the squad.

Congratulations to Mr. Cunningham for his fine work in coaching the 1946 quintet. With four varsity veterans, there should be a fine season next year.

Although hampered by injuries, this year's football squad rates very high. At the beginning of the season six of our top players, Diek Ruggiero, George Boudreau, Dom Bright, John Caulfield, Jaek Donovan, and Paul Brady were, because of injuries, sidelined, killing any chance of the team's being District Champions.

In the first game of the season Roslindale was defeated by East Boston, 6-0. The team showed its disgust by handing Roxbury Memorial a 20-0 shellacking. It was here that the jinx struck, and Hyde Park beat us, 6-0. South Boston stepped up next and won a 26-0 victory. But now Rossie began to roll, defeating Jamaica Plain (21-0), Charlestown (13-0), and Brandeis (13-0). A blocked kick by Whittaker in the closing minutes of game gave the team a well deserved victory over our rivals, Brighton (7-0).

Hockey

This year Mr. Reynolds took over the helm, and successfully guided our hockey team to a very impressive record. After losing a heart-breaker to Jamaica Plain, the boys swept through the rest of the season with six straight victories. It seems ironic that the Roslindale Sextet lost the best game they played all year to a team they had previously defeated.

The season's close found Roslindale deadlocked with East Boston for the District title. In the play-off, it took Eastie a full three periods and all but six seconds of a "sudden-death" overtime period to eke out a four to three win over a stubborn and aggressive Roslindale foe.

Much credit is due our first line of George Boudreau, Bob MacEwen, and Dick Healy. Charlie Steeger and "Doe" Festa played a rugged game at defense, while Don Sellers was superb at guarding the nets. Other boys who contributed greatly to the team's success were Paul Brady, Bob Pero, Harvey Corbo, Joe Kelleher and Al Reddy. Congratulations, boys, you did a fine job!

The track team was victor in two out of three track meets and lost only to the defending District Champions, East Boston.

Seniors who ran under the colors of Roslindale High were John Whittaker, in the hurdles; Richard Ruggiero, Robert Rando, Wesley Rowe, John Downey, John O'Connell, and Joseph Regan, who won the 600-yard run in the Districts.

Others, whose points were instrumental in registering victories for us were Charles Carnabucci, Richard Hawkes, Edward Maguire, Richard Heimuller, Russell Boates, Austin Troy, Robert Schultz, Alan Kieran, and Robert Crimmins.

The class C relay team composed of Kieran, Maguire, Boates, and Heimuller was one of the fastest in the city. John Whittaker won his three hurdle races and ran third on the A B relay team. Through Mr. Murray's willingness to give every boy more than a fair chance in running, he has earned the respect of the whole team. Here's hoping next year's team will do even better.

Baseball

The familiar cry, "Play Ball!" echoed through the corridors of Roslindale High School early in March, and to answer it came the veterans of last year's team, and many recruits. On April fifteenth they made their first public appearance against the Charlestown High School nine, and ran up a score that has set the pace for the rest of the season. Under the coaching of Mr. Murray and the captaincy of George Boudreau, a smooth-working club has been developed.

NIORS

As we end our high school days, we think gratefully of the training our Headmaster and our faculty have given to us. Our work in the classroom, our play on the athletic field, our participation in our club and our class activities have given us the maturity that has made us young men and women who will face with complete confidence the problems of our growing community. We have shown you the accounts of our accomplishments as members of a group; in the pages that follow you will see our records as individuals—records which we believe will prove that each one of us will be able to take his place among the distinguished graduates of our school.

MISS G. PAULINE GORDON

MR. FRANCIS J. O'BRIEN

To Miss G. Pauline Gordon and to Mr. Francis J. O'Brien, we of the Class of 1946 are sincerely grateful. As our class sponsors they have guided us through social and scholastic difficulties to a most successful conclusion of our high school career. Miss Gordon, by her sage advice, her genuine kindness, and her interest in our well-being, has endeared herself to us all. Mr. O'Brien has won our lasting esteem and our friendship. And so, to the two people who have done so much for us we say, "Thank you."

Valedictory

Now that we have at last come to the end of our years in Roslindale High School, we feel that, after a long climb, we have reached the peak of a high mountain. To the boys and girls who graduated from secondary schools in America during the last four years, the outlook from this summit was dark indeed with the tragic hopelessness of war. But today, we of the Class of 1946 see in the distance the light of peace—a peace that we must do what we can to secure. Real peace is not yet ours: although the war is over, there are rumors of war; there still exist much of the bitterness, many of the inequalities, and many of the injustices which our fathers, brothers, and friends offered their lives to eradicate. Yet if we are worthy of our heritage, we can help to make this far-distant peace a reality.

How can we, as individuals, do this? We can achieve our object only by putting to their greatest use our own special talents and skills which our training both at home and at Roslindale High School has developed, and which we, by our own efforts, must continue to cherish. Now, more than ever, every part we play not only will illuminate our future but will reflect our past. Our parents and our teachers have helped to equip us with the needed knowledge; but we alone can put that knowledge to practical use. We must be confident that we shall be equal to the tasks that lie before us—tasks more difficult and complicated since now the world we enter is torn by doubts and almost stagnated by confusion. Each of us must search for the place in which he may best apply his abilities. Some of us will make plans for a better world; others will work to carry out those plans; and still others will teach the word of God to insure peace in the hearts of men everywhere.

Today should not mark the end of our learning. On the contrary, we should continue to learn something new every day, whether it be in another school, at our work, or in our social life. As long as we keep an open mind, we shall have an increasingly greater understanding of the world in which we live, but if we close our minds, our spirit will weaken, just as a flower, when it breaks from its root, withers and dies.

On this our graduation day we say goodby to Roslindale High School, but that goodby is a gesture of farewell only to the tangible things there, for the lessons we have learned and the memories of the friends we have known will remain with us as long as we live. Let us thank God that in our time hostilities have ceased, and let us pray to Him that, through His generosity and His mercy, we shall be able to do our part to make our peace a lasting one.

Salutatory

Graduation is the final exercise of what have probably been some of the happiest years of our lives. Three years ago it hardly seemed possible that we should ever be seniors, but today we find ourselves greeting one another on the last occasion in which we shall be united as the Class of 1946. It is a day I am sure we shall long remember and cherish.

Not only is this a day of great happiness for us, but it is also one on which we feel deep gratitude. We are grateful to our Headmaster and Faculty who have been both our teachers and advisors during the past few years. They have made high school pleasant and worth-while, and it is through their efforts that we are prepared to enter the world and to become successful citizens.

To our parents and friends we are also most grateful. Their interest and encouragement have enabled us to overcome our difficulties, which, however small and insignificant, seemed large to us. They are in a sense part of our class for they have shared our troubles as well as our joys.

We cannot let this day go by without realizing how fortunate we are to be here in a time of peace. To those many who made this possible do we owe a special debt of gratitude. How thankful we are that we are able to set out in a world free of war, and, although we can never hope to repay fully our debt, we will soon endeavor to prove ourselves worthy of the sacrifices of those in former classes.

We have thus reached the end of our high school years. We now then greet and congratulate one another of the Class of 1946, and resolve on this, our graduation day, that we will always remember and hold dear the friendships, the associations, and the experiences we have enjoyed here at Roslindale High School.

CLASS HISTORY

objectives, not the least of which was the third front—the lunchroom—which we manfully took practically singlehanded.

Those first days at school during our sophomore year were all-absorbing. It was not until we had settled down to our regular routine that we realized our interest in our own affairs had almost made us forget that, outside of school, World War II was entering its most critical stage. When three of the faculty left to enter the service of our country; when we went to the auditorium to pay tribute to Major Albert J. Kelley, our Military Drill instructor who had died in the service; and when more and more of us saw our fathers and brothers and friends enlist, our own private troubles seemed small indeed. Boys in the upper classes in our school disappeared suddenly, and returned in uniform for their last furlough or leave before they sailed to the Pacific or to Europe. And although we were glad of the holidays, we knew exactly what the issuing of Ration Book IV meant.

But we had our work to do, and worries of our own, too,—report cards and the hope that they would not be too bright with the maroon of our school colors. However, after we had weathered the months to Christmas vacation, we felt better about ourselves, and with lighter hearts and more ambitious minds we returned in January to Readin', 'Ritin', 'Rithmetic, and Rossie. Our trips to the Biology Lab were brightened (particularly for the girls) by the little chore of digging into the internal cavities of frogs and worms. Something was the matter with our lunches on those days. In Military Drill the boys were preparing for the Prize Drill; we must admit that they were handsome in their new uniforms which were pretty sharp THEN. Almost before we knew it the Street Parade was a memory, as was the Class of 1943.

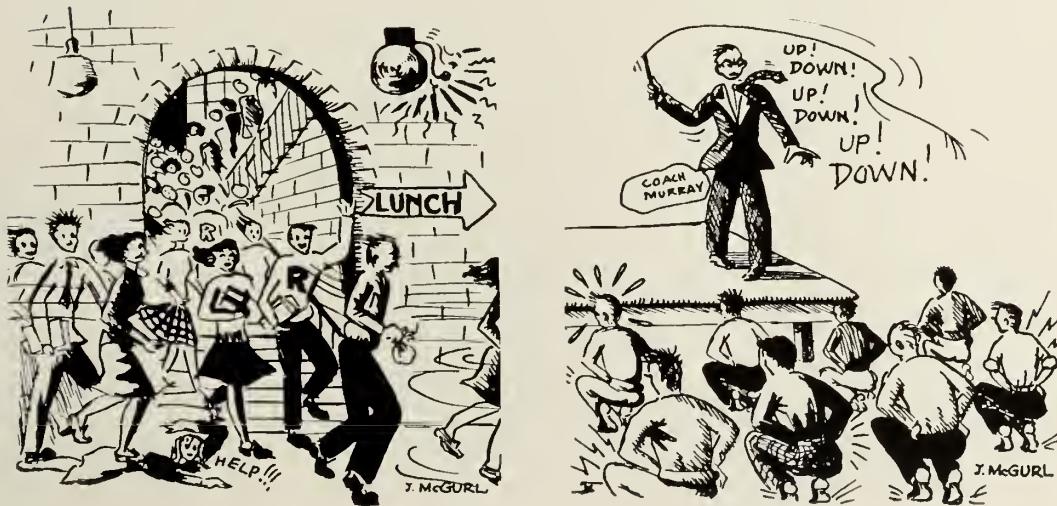

Now that we have reached the age of discretion, we look back with sympathetic amusement at our frightened little selves on that September day in 1943 when we first saw the inside of Roslindale High School. We experience again that sinking feeling we had when, with the mysterious No. 136 slips clutched in our youthful hands, we timidly asked upper classmen how to get to our destinations, and found how far it was to go from Room 117 to the gymnasium by way of the third floor. Through a haze of confusing bells, we of the lost battalion finally reached our

During the summer many of us worked, taking the places of men who had entered the service, and although we were glad to do what we could for the war effort, we were happy to return to school in September, even though we must face a year of History bi-monthlies and an even more vigorous health education program which we were confident would either make or break us. It was this year that we had the experience of seeing some of our classmates enter the services; war was very close to us now. As a class we settled down to work. On the playing fields our teams were doing a fine job; our football team ranked with the best the school has had. A light note sounded when it was rumored the girls were "ga-ga" over a voice attached to a tie on the radio. The ladies we soon noticed wearing the same kind of clothes as Frankie.

The shadow of sorrow engulfed us when our nation's leader died on April twelfth. Although Franklin Delano Roosevelt had not lived long enough to see the result of his efforts towards peace, he had had faith in America and in us, too, that we would keep the wheels rolling. Three weeks later, on May seventh, the President's prayers and those of all the world were answered when V-E Day was proclaimed.

The highlight of our junior year in school was the class election. After the candidates had given weeks to bill-posting, the building looked like a modern academy of art. The officers for the 1945-46, our senior year, were finally chosen as follows: George Boudreau, president; John O'Connell, vice president; Ruth Johnson, secretary; and Anne McCarthy, treasurer. Our class sponsors were to be Miss Gordon and Mr. O'Brien.

But it was during vacation that the biggest day in the history of this class came. On August fourteenth, 1945, the Japanese Government accepted the United Nations surrender terms, and World War II came to an end. We of Roslindale High School's class of 1946 can say that we did our part to speed the day of final victory. Our record speaks for itself. Besides the many War Bonds and Stamps we bought as Junior Minute Men, we made super-salesmen during the War Loan Drives. Because of an acute manpower shortage, some students worked part-time in war plants to replace men now in active service. The girls had spent hours making surgical dressings and doing volunteer work for the Red Cross and the U.S.O.

We returned to school in September with a song in our hearts, money in our pockets, and dreams of how we would run the school, now that we were seniors. But, by the end of October, our money was gone from us; so was the song; and our dreams were disillusionments. Milk had gone up one cent; we had to pay for class rings; and those gruesome things called graduation pictures required a down payment; but worst of all, teachers were as strict as ever—maybe more so.

Southie beat us again in November. Well . . . maybe next year! In the same month some of our prominent athletes participated in a round-table discussion over the radio, and other groups later appeared on the Public School Hour radio programs.

As the joyful season of Christmas approached, most of us found part-time work; and when we returned to school, we had little bank rolls. On the day before Christmas vacation the faculty and students heard the first performance of the Boys' Glee Club, and, contrary to all expectations, the fellows were really good!

Basketball which had been revived in 1945 was making its 1946 appearance. At the games we went to, not all the athletes were on the court!

But now our troubled little minds turned to the future and the expenses of the Senior Prom. It was on March first that boys of the class donned their "monkey suits," and girls poured themselves into evening gowns to attend the Senior Prom at the Longwood Towers. That was one date that won't be soon forgotten.

But at the top of our list of memories will be the day we leave "Rossie." For we leave behind us years of happiness, years of those forgotten home-lessons, the dash to reach school before nine, the stampede to get out at two-thirty, the hopes of beating Southie in a football game, the friends whom we may never see again, and the teachers to whom we owe so much. These are all the things we shall be missing when, in years to come, we shall say, "Boy, do I wish I were back at 'Rossie'!"

JOSEPH GLENNON

C L A S S W I L L

This being the year 1946 A.D., marking the end of the first decade of the history of Roslindale High School, we, the graduating class of the aforementioned institution in said year, do hereby publish, with fear and regret, our last will and testament. We generously bequeath the following items for any or all of three reasons: (1) the objects are nailed down; (2) we could not slip them out the side door; (3) they will be of greater use to the beneficiaries of this atrocious document than to its sadly departing perpetrators.

Your attention please!

To Mr. Warren we leave our deepest thanks and fondest affection for his guidance through the hectic war years which marked our stay at Roslindale; and as a more tangible symbol of our esteem, a radar device for finding the merry whistlers in the corridors.

To the Faculty in general we leave the task of instructing future senior classes which may not be of such a lofty calibre as that of 1946. (We blush modestly!)

To Mr. Gately we leave a slightly larger office with maybe even a window in it.

To Mr. Roche—a time clock for his 8:30 classes.

To Mr. Murray—a bottle of iodine and a roll of bandage for ailing athletes.

To Miss Connor—a lifetime subscription to Le Petit Journal.

To Mr. Pickett—a robot for working pulleys, turning cranks, and doing other back-breaking chores.

To Miss Aznive—a dark corner of the Art Museum where she can exhibit her students' masterpieces.

To Miss Reid—a third foot for tripping jay-walkers in the corridor.

To Mr. Cunningham—five six-footers with 20-20 vision.

To the Misses Guiney, Reilly, and Ruane—history classes that do not think the Constitution is another name of "Old Ironsides."

To Mr. Landigan—a debating club that will find time to learn speeches.

To Mr. Conlin—a catalogue of "the many beautiful statues seen walking in the Art Museum."

To Mr. O'Brien—rubber-bottomed milk bottles and larger barrels in the lunch room.

To Mr. Reynolds—plaid suspenders to set off the new hockey ensemble.

To Miss Toland—a block of cells at Leavenworth where she can lock up the Yearbook staff until they complete their material.

To Miss Cogan—a case of Rye-Krisp to feed the girls. Exercise is taking a heavy toll in the gym classes.

To Mr. McGuekian—exclusive rights to the peanut and popcorn concession at basketball games.

To Miss Gorden—a walkie-talkie to keep in touch with the Senior Council.

To Mr. Hartin—insurance policies to be sold to the unfortunates trapped in Mass. Station when the football team arrives.

To Major Burke—recruits who can complete the manual of arms and keep both ears attached to their heads.

To Mrs. Dillon—a herd of Jerseys to equalize supply and demand during milk shortages.

To the Junior Class we leave a machine that designs courses which total 105 points and 87 study periods.

To the Sophomores we give a manual, written from experience, that explains how we obtained our diplomas.

We boys donate all our telephone numbers of female undergrads.

Paul Parker leaves to “cherchez la femme.”

Dot Roehe leaves a set of blue oil-cloth book covers (with red roses) to Miss Guiney.

Norma Lane leaves her allergy to books.

Pat Lyneh leaves three wads of gum in each school wastebasket.

Audrey Glover leaves—running to her locker.

Lois Serverson and Ann Seannell leave in one piece.

Paul Hurley leaves his parachute boots to the cavalry.

Lorraine Hassett and Dorothy McGowan leave their shiny hair—won’t they look odd without it!

Gert O’Connell leaves her hair to the Air Corps for Norden Bomb Sights.

Frannie Ainsworth and Lucy Damiano leave their word knowledge to Miss Ward.

Mary Ann Long leaves—shortly.

Buddy Steeger leaves Mr. Latham to conduct the band alone.

Alice Bowler leaves “Seventeen” for a college edition of “Mademoiselle.”

Eleanor Brooker leaves her scrapbook of the R.H.S. hockey team.

Phyllis McIsaac and Irene Kohler bequeath their days of absence to Mr. Gately’s record.

Pat Greene leaves for the trees.

Bill McConnell leaves the happy memories of two years of hard labor in Math.

Donna Chase leaves for Harry Conover.

June Smith leaves with the class’s most original name.

Grace Hansen leaves for Florida—again.

Joan Geisheker leaves her gold barrettes to be melted into teeth for Coach Murray’s toothless eave-men.

Ralph Hiltz leaves to devote all his time to the State Guard.

Pat Holleran bequeaths her first novel, entitled, "How to Procure Football Sweaters at Rossie High."

Kay Grant leaves—on time.

Mary Tully leaves an amoeba for Health Ed. Experiments.

Gerry Casey leaves Mr. Roche happy.

Prophets Alice Kelleher and David Tucker leave wormout tea leaves in a battered tea-eup.

Kay Mc Neil leaves the formula for a good party.

Dot Lenihan, Jean Hayes, Phyllis Berlo, Mary MacDonough, Anne McCarthy, and Helen Kennedy leave the legs of Table No. 36 wobbly.

Dom Bright leaves to model for Charles Atlas ads.

Joe Regan leaves his Pepsodent to Bob Hope.

Dorothy Pugatch, Jessie Garland, and Lois Gustafson leave the locker room empty.

Anne Kerrigan leaves her eyes to shine in gloomy glasses.

Regina Currier leaves her pin curls to Miss Wolfe.

David D'Angelo leaves on a pair of skis.

Pat Mooney leaves her ink to Q42.

Leona Milch and Pat Riordan leave for the 1950 Olympic Games.

Janet Weeber leaves her cousins to alleviate the man shortage.

Richard Murphy leaves a five o'clock shadow.

Bev Connors leaves singing, "California, Here I Come."

Mona Saad, Jeanne Corcoran, and Martha Barbour leave F53 with Fraser and Square.

Evie Sexton leaves one-half dozen gym ensembles (minus sneakers).

Joe Downing and his ties leave—the trail is easy to follow.

Henry Kelley leaves the supply room empty.

Bill Hooley leaves the green jacket to Apollo.

Mickey Mack leaves the lunch tray with 15¢ on it.

John Ballard leaves a curling iron for red heads only.

Subsequently in the consequence of the wherewithal we affix our names with shaking heart and quivering hand. Sealed with arsenic and consequently witnessed by no human, we complete this document.

CLASS PROPHETY

ANNOUNCER: Station WRHS presents this evening, December 31, 1968, Retlaw Nechwill and the Snegrej Journal. And now, here is Mr. Nechwill.

RETLAW NECHWILL: Good evening, ladies and gentlemen, and all the ships at sea, let's go to press. . . . Flash! An airplane crash has been reported near Cedar Creek, Arizona, early this evening. However, thanks to the clever maneuvering of Richard Dawson, pilot, and David D'Angelo, co-pilot, all passengers were reported safe. Stewardess Eleanor Brooker applied first aid to those slightly injured. John Clarke, famed A.P. reporter, was among the first to arrive on the scene, followed by Warren Fegan, photographer for Life. Some of the notables on the plane were engineers Paul Hurley and Gerald Attaya, the owners of Krunehy Breakfast Food Co; Nassif Akiki, John Bonner, and Robert Herlihy, with their secretaries Ruth Johnson, Phyllis Berlo, and Joan Cogliano. . . . A bombshell is due to hit Congress this week when Senators Bill McConnell, Walter Fleming, and Henry Stober filibuster the Anti-School Bill. For their filibuster they are preparing to read the complete works of Shakespeare and Scott. My regards to these men in their very literate argument. . . . John Whittaker will attempt to lead his Wala-Wala Tech eleven to a Rose Bowl victory at Pasadena tomorrow. Patricia Cobb, Zoe Grant, Mary Jacobs, and Marilyn Stillings will compete for the title of "Queen of the Roses."

ANNOUNCER: And now we take you to Hollywood to introduce Allevol Snosrap, your Hollywood reporter.

ALLEVOL SNOSRAP: Hello to all of you from Hollywood. Exclusive! Henry Lynch, owner of the Gable Racing Track, drew a record crowd yesterday including the well-known horse owners Eleanor McClintock, Janet Weeber, Erie Sexton, and Pat Flynn. . . . Marion Mack, Dot Piranian, and Lois Gustafson, the world-famous singing trio, scored a hit at the premiere of their new musical, "Spring in My Heart," directed by William Hooley and produced by Jack Donovan and Joan Jacobson. . . . Anne McCarthy has opened an exclusive beauty salon here in Hollywood. Her able assistants, Anne Clarke, Therese Connelly, and Marguerite Farrell, prove to be popular manicurists with the renowned cinema personalities Robert Dowling, Joc Glennon, Ralph Hiltz, and Henry Kelley. . . . The quartet of Sparkie Boudreau, Dominic Bright, Richard Ruggiero and Dickie Falona are rapidly blotting out the Ink Spots. . . . Pat Holloran brought last night to the Moeamba her sensational all-girl orchestra, featuring Alice Bowler, Patricia Killion and Florence Murphy. . . . Elizabeth Stone and Margaret White have top billings in the latest roller-skating revues touring America. . . . Jill McGrath and Ann Scannell, well-known teachers of ballroom dancing, have been called in to do all the routines for Dot Lenihan's latest picture, "Moon over Sao Luis." Some of the script was translated into Spanish by Leontine Milano and Claire Sullivan. . . . Jimmy Gallo's latest tune will be heard by the public for the first time this evening at Carnegie Hall. It will be a sure-fire hit.

ANNOUNCER: And now we return you to Retlaw Neehwill in New York.

RETLAW NECHWILL: I have just been handed a telegram that the head of the Secretaries' Union, Anna Caton, called a meeting tonight to decide the issue upon which the secretaries will strike. Marjorie MacDonald, Jane McNeil, and Nadine McWilliams advocate that bosses dictate fewer letters. Norma Lane, Julia Murray and Claire MeEachern suggested no typing and longer lunch hours. Helen Brine and Josephine Bernini want nearer bosses. . . . It is reported from Roslindale High School, made famous by its graduates, that John O'Connell, the principal, has surprised his listeners by quoting a current joke. He remarked to heads of the science department, Phyllis Hersee and Ruth Fitzgerald, that he had discovered a boy in the cloak-room smoking a cigarette. The teachers said, "Oh really?" Mr. O'Connell jovially replied, "No, a Raleigh!" . . . Rosemarie Raymond has opened a History Quiz Service for the benefit of American youth. Any student wishing to know the correct answer, be it Ancient, Medieval, or Modern, has merely to get in touch with Miss Raymond. . . . Shirley Rawding has signed a contract with Liberty Magazine to do their covers for five years. The new editors, by the way, are none other than Charles Steeger, Harvey Corbo, and Robert MacEwen, former hockey stars. . . . Francis Nee and Ed Blondin have discovered a new fabric for Dupont called Hypolon. They claim it's five times sheerer than Nylon. . . . A revival of the ancient Greek tragedy, "Antigone and the Tyrant," now playing at the Saint James Theatre presents a stellar cast including Joan Bossi, Claire Jaeobsen, Josephine Raffoni, Leo Kharibian, and John Rasch. . . . Audrey DeVeuve, owner of the Veuve Publishing Co., when asked how she gained success, replied, "I publish the A.D.V. Math Book, complete with answers to every problem." . . . Leona Mileh cheered her on in her crusade to publish this book. J. Kevin Walshe is her advertising executive. . . . It was reported at the American Medical Association's meeting last week that Janice Bohan and Martha Barber, after careful chemical analysis, found that bread mold from a desolate part of Siberia was much better for making Penicillin than anything yet found. Also, the new vitamin Umbrathin discovered by Lois Lang was presented at the meeting. Business men George Khouri, John Marsoobian, and Edward Nordbloom are prepared to back it to get it on the market. . . . That's all for tonight and so until next week (not that you'll listen anyway) I remain your New York correspondent who reminds you that the road to success is paved with the stones of perseverance. . . . Goodnight.

it's a man's world
in the UNDERGRAD
SHOP at KENNEDY'S

The place where the gang gathers for the smartest clothes in the classroom or campus. We know what you want in clothes — 'cause we've heard you talkin' — and we have them. The latest sport jackets, odd slacks, suits, topcoats and furnishings. You'll find it's a man's world in our undergrad shop any day of the week.

KENNEDY'S FAMOUS UNDERGRAD SHOP

KENNEDY'S

TO GIRL GRADUATES OF '46

WHO'D LIKE VITAL
“human interest” WORK

For girls who are looking beyond graduation to a good-paying job that's full of “human interest,” here's an opportunity worth investigating.

The Telephone Company has several openings for girls finishing high school. Recent high school graduates who've become telephone girls find the work interesting; associates friendly; surroundings pleasant.

Seniors should look into this opportunity. Training courses may be arranged so as not to interfere with studies or graduation, and can usually be given right in the home town. Sign up right away and receive pay while learning.

Your teacher or vocational advisor can tell you more about work in this interesting industry.
